

Dear Sirs:

I do not think the public should be allowed usage of cell phones in the air. We at American Eagle have aircraft that only require one flight attendant, we do not need and further distractions on our flights as it is. Remember September 11? Let us not get lax in our attempts to keep the airlines as safe as possible and we do not need any further distractions of cell phone usages by several passengers. Thank you.